Dear Phil,

Thank you for your gracious letter of congratulations on the 100th anniversary of the founding of the American Radio Relay League.

We deeply appreciate the WIA's leadership in advancing the interests of the amateur radio service in Australia, IARU Region 3, and the world. Australia's success in attracting new people into amateur radio supports our conviction that amateur radio will thrive in the 21st century as it did in the past.

The continuing good health of amateur radio depends to a great extent on cooperation among the world's national amateur radio societies in advocating for a rational and progressive regulatory environment in our home countries and, through the IARU, at the ITU level.

The ARRL looks forward to working with the WIA during our second centuries, living up to the example set by the founders of our two organizations so long ago.

Very best regards to the WIA's leadership and to the amateur radio community in Australia.

73,

Kay Craigie, N3KN
